BRAND KIT · 2026

MEDELLIN BUZZ

A visual identity system built for an audience that already has the money to move, and the taste to expect more than a relocation blog.

medellin BUZZ

16 YEARS LIVED IN MEDELLÍN.
NOT RESEARCHED — LIVED.

POSITIONING

Why This Brand Reads Premium

Medellin Buzz isn't selling a fantasy of cheap living abroad. The data says otherwise: 36.9% of the audience sits in the top 10% of household income, the core skews 45–64, and the shopping intent is dominated by home purchase loans, mortgages, and residential real estate. This is a viewer with capital, not a backpacker chasing a discount. The visual system has to match that: confident, editorial, unhurried. That's the opposite of the cluttered, ad-heavy "expat hack" aesthetic most relocation channels default to.

DESIGN PRINCIPLE

Rare Terracotta ties directly to Medellín's clay and brick, a color no competitor has claimed and one that can't be copied by a research-and-voiceover channel.

Original Deliberately not navy-and-gold. That palette is the uniform of every generic relocation consultant and offshore-banking newsletter. Warmth and restraint read as lived experience, not a sales funnel.

Tactically Useful Every visual choice earns its place in a sponsor deck, a thumbnail, or a video graphic. Nothing here is decoration for its own sake.

AUDIENCE PROOF POINTS

36.9%
top 10% household income

45–64
core viewer age range

91.7%
male

$3K+/mo
typical relocation/investment budget

LOGO

Primary Lockup & Usage

The mark is set plainly, no pill, no bubble, no container: lowercase "medellin" in Lora SemiBold, "BUZZ" tracked out in Poppins Bold and Terracotta beside it. Dropping the rounded container was deliberate — a soft bubble reads friendly-app; plain confident type on a clean field reads like something that costs more.

ON SAND / PAPER

ON INK

CLEAR SPACE & MINIMUM SIZE

Maintain clear space equal to the height of the letter "B" in BUZZ on all sides. Never scale the lockup below 1 inch wide in print or 120px wide on screen. The tracked caps collapse into a gray smear below that.

DON'T

- Don't add a pill, bubble, or any container shape behind the wordmark. It sits directly on the field.
- Don't place the lockup on any background except Ink, Paper, or Sand. Contrast fails on anything else.
- Don't stretch, skew, italicize, or drop-shadow the lockup.
- Don't substitute a different accent color for the BUZZ wordmark. Terracotta only.

LOGO

Standalone Icon

Two terracotta tiles, leaning together, symmetrical and centered: an abstraction of the terracotta rooflines across Medellín, reduced to two flat shapes. No literal roof, no skyline, just the gesture. This is the only mark used where the full wordmark won't fit: the YouTube avatar, the favicon, a social profile photo.

ON INK

ON PAPER

AT 48PX
(FAVICON / AVATAR TEST)

RULES

- Always two tiles, always symmetrical and centered. The offset-height and wider-spacing variations explored during design were rejected for this reason.
- Terracotta tiles only, on an Ink or Paper circular badge. Never on Sand, never in any other color.
- Never use the icon and the full wordmark lockup together in the same badge; the icon stands alone.
- Minimum size: the icon must remain legible at 48px (the YouTube avatar/favicon size) — test at that size before using it anywhere new.

COLOR

The Palette

Warm neutrals do the heavy lifting; Terracotta and Brass are used sparingly, the way a tailor uses one good accessory. Roughly 60% neutral background, 30% ink structure/text, 10% accent, never more.

Ink
#111111
RGB 17,17,17
CMYK 0,0,0,93

Primary text, structure, dark backgrounds.

Sand
#FBF8F4
RGB 251,248,244
CMYK 0,1,3,2

Primary background — warm, editorial, never stark white.

Terracotta
#C1502E
RGB 193,80,46
CMYK 0,59,76,24

The one accent everyone remembers. CTAs, key numbers, the BUZZ mark.

Terracotta Dark
#8F3A1F
RGB 143,58,31
CMYK 0,59,78,44

Hover states, depth, pairing with Brass.

Antique Brass
#9C7A46
RGB 156,122,70
CMYK 0,22,55,39

Premium accent — dividers, tier badges, quiet luxury cues.

Warm Gray
#6B6660
RGB 107,102,96
CMYK 0,5,10,58

Secondary text, captions, metadata.

PAIRING RULE

Never place Terracotta directly against Brass. Separate them with Ink or Sand. Brass is a quiet accent, not a co-star; if both appear on a page, Terracotta leads.

TYPOGRAPHY

The Type System

A serif and sans pairing, not two sans-serifs. The serif gives the brand editorial weight, the kind of gravitas a reader in their 50s expects from something worth their money. The sans keeps it modern and legible on screen.

DISPLAY — LORA

Headlines & Positioning

Pull quotes and taglines sit in Lora Italic, like this.

LABELS — POPPINS MEDIUM, TRACKED

SECTION EYEBROWS AND DATA LABELS

BODY — LATO

Paragraph copy, captions, and anything meant to be read at length runs in Lato Regular. Lato Light works for long captions; Lato Bold for inline emphasis, never italics for emphasis in body copy.

TYPE SCALE

| ROLE | FONT | SIZE | COLOR |
|---|---|---|---|
| H1 / Page headline | Lora-SemiBold | 28–34pt | Ink |
| H2 / Section head | Lora-SemiBold | 20–25pt | Ink |
| Eyebrow / label | Poppins Medium, tracked +2 | 9pt | Terracotta or Warm Gray |
| Body | Lato Regular | 10–11pt | Ink |
| Caption / meta | Lato Light or Italic | 8–9pt | Warm Gray |

VOICE & TONE

How The Brand Sounds

The visual system is premium; the voice never is. Andrew talks like someone who's actually lived it, not a brand account. 4th–6th grade reading level, short sentences, no corporate polish. That contrast is the point: confident design, plain-spoken words.

IN PRACTICE

- Short sentences. No corporate language, no fake positivity.
- Blunt when he disagrees. Opinions aren't softened into diplomatic mush.
- Undercuts his own pitches organically ("that's not a pitch, that's just math") rather than a bolted-on disclaimer.
- Written comms (emails, sponsor replies): lead with practical value before any commercial pitch. Warm but direct.

NEVER SAY

“Here’s the thing”

“To be honest” / “Honestly” as a filler

“Let me be clear”

“At the end of the day”

Parallel three-part lists (“not just X, it’s Y, it’s Z”)

Dashes for dramatic effect

APPLICATIONS

The System In Use

Note: on-screen video text (lower thirds, title cards) stays Impact per the editing brief, that's a separate, deliberately punchy convention for fast-cut footage. This system covers everything sponsors, partners, and the audience see outside the edit: thumbnails' text zones, social templates, and sponsor decks.

THUMBNAIL FRAME

YOUTUBE THUMBNAIL — TEXT ZONES

SOCIAL / DATA POST

SPONSOR ONE-PAGER HEADER

QUICK REFERENCE

Cheat Sheet For Handoff

COLOR

| | |
|---|---|
| Ink | #111111 |
| Paper | #FFFFFF |
| Sand | #FBF8F4 |
| Terracotta | #C1502E |
| Terracotta Dark | #8F3A1F |
| Antique Brass | #9C7A46 |
| Warm Gray | #6B6660 |

TYPE

| | |
|---|---|
| Headlines | Lora SemiBold / Bold |
| Labels & eyebrows | Poppins Medium, tracked |
| Body copy | Lato Regular |
| Captions | Lato Light / Italic |

LOGO RULES

- Min width: 1in print / 120px screen.
- Backgrounds: Paper or Ink only, never Sand or Terracotta.
- Clear space: height of the "B" in BUZZ, all sides.
- BUZZ is always Terracotta. No exceptions.
- Icon: two tiles, symmetrical, centered, Terracotta only. Test at 48px before using it anywhere new.

Production files: Drive folder "Logo - Brand Guide - Media Kit - Rate Card (Medellin Buzz)".